MRS. CORBETT REMARRIES.

SHE HAS BECOME THE WIFE OF A NEW YORK MILLIONAIRE.

Olive Lake, divorced wife of James J. Corbett, has consoled herself by taking another husband. The name of the man on whom the former Mrs. Corbett has bestowed her hand and all LOSS that remains of her affections is Fred L. Masury, an amiable for chemical experiments and a large fortune inherited from his grandfather, John W. Masury, who left many millions behind him. This fortune was the occasion of a long will contest between Mr. Masury and his brother John W., Jr., on one side, and the dead man's second wife, matter was finally settled by arrangement, the tamily dividing the property.

It was still in the early part of last August, soon after the death of his grandfather, and while the will contest was still pending, that Mr. Masury, then staying at Naragansett for the Summer, met and lost his heart to Mrs. home and by his artifices gained Corbett.
